DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-4 and 15-21 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-2 of U.S. Patent No. 6,619,498. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because it would have been obvious to provide the bucket with a single groove and the lid with a single tongue which seals the lid onto the bucket, in order to better seal the contents in the container.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1, 3-17, 19 and 21-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jiradejnunt et al. (U.S. 5,730,309) in view of Marino (U.S. 5,373,955) and Luburic (U.S. 5,617,968). Jiradejnunt et al. teaches a bucket 10 having a first radially outwardly extending top rib 16 and a second side rib 18. The lid 30 includes a center panel, shown in figure 4, a depending skirt 32, a first locking flange 34 and a second locking flange 36. The tear strip is located below tear line 46. Jiradejnunt et al. does not teach that only portions of the second flange remain for engagement with the second rib upon removal of the tear strip. Marino teaches that it is known to provide a container wherein the tear strip only removes a portion of the second locking flange (see figures 1-4) while leaving another portion intact. Luburic teaches that it is known to leave a plurality of portions intact. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the container assembly of Jiradejnunt et al. with the tear strip only removing portions of the second flange, as taught by Marino and Luburic, in order to allow the lid to remain firmly engaged on the container after removal of the tear strip.

5. Claims 2, 18 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jiradejnunt et al. (U.S. 5,730,309) in view of Marino (U.S. 5,373,955) and Luburic (U.S. 5,617,968), as applied to claims 1, 15 and 19 above, and further in view of Widen et al. (U.S. 4,444,332). The modified assembly of Jiradejnunt et al. discloses the claimed invention except for the groove of the bucket which receives the depending tongue. Widen et al. teaches that it is known to provide a container with a groove which can receive a depending tongue (see elements 14 and 16). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the modified assembly of Jiradejnunt et al. with the container having grooves to receive the tongues, as taught by Widen et al., in order to provide a more secure seal between the container and lid.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. Applicant argued that neither Jiradejnunt et al. nor Luburic taught the partial removal of a second flange. The reference of Marino has been added to the rejections to show that it is known to partially remove a second flange on a container with two flanges.

Conclusion

7. In view of the new grounds of rejection, this action is NON-FINAL.
